

GIVING ANNUAL REPORT

It's All about Relationships

Scholarship funding is what enables Grace Hochella to be a chaplaincy student at MTS. But that is only part of the story.

Bach Choir auditions brought Grace to the Lehigh Valley from Washington NJ twenty years ago. The equity actress and singer, who had toured the country for several years hoping for a break, was now expecting her first child. So she left the theater and took a job as a soloist and cantor in a church, a job that she could work around caring for her newborn daughter. She sang in church. She sang Bach cantatas. She sang to her newborn daughter and life was good.

Then the diagnosis came. Her newborn had health challenges that would require cardiac surgery as a 4-year-old. Life became a constant stream of hospital stays and doctor visits. And Grace began a decades-long argument with God. Nothing she heard in the hymns, liturgy or preaching of the church helped her make sense of what she saw and experienced in the pediatric ICU.

Audrey Rafferty's Light Continues to Shine

After receiving her BS in Nursing from Moravian College in 2009, Audrey came to know first-hand the intensity of nursing and the need for inner strength. She enrolled in the Seminary in 2016 and was a vibrant part of her Spiritual Direction cohort. Then in June 2017 a fatal car accident ended Audrey's life.

Audrey is described by a fellow parish nurse as "a shining light for her faith, a true example of Jesus' love." Her classmates remember her as a "wise, wonderful friend, elegant in stature with a beautiful spirit."

To celebrate her "65 years of being love to all she encountered," her friends are creating the Audrey Rafferty Scholarship Fund for Formative Spirituality at Moravian Seminary. The Rafferty Scholarship will provide financial support to students enrolled in Formative Spirituality courses at the Seminary, with first priority to Moravian Seminary students and Moravian nursing students, and second priority to any graduate student.

Her friends from the Seminary, area parish nurses, St. Luke's nursing colleagues, Moravian College nursing graduates, her Church of the Assumption, B.V.M Coleville, Rotary, family and friends are actively contributing to the scholarship fund honoring Audrey. You too can help her light continue to shine. Contribute to the Audrey Rafferty Scholarship Fund online or via mail to Moravian Theological Seminary, notation: the Audrey Rafferty Scholarship Fund.

GREETINGS FROM THE DIRECTOR OF SEMINARY ADVANCEMENT

This edition of Common Thread, the 2016-17 Giving Report, is an opportunity to share the many ways your gifts move the Seminary forward, keep our academic offerings strong, and increase financial aid for our students.

Students and faculty in distance education courses are particularly grateful for your support of our recent technology campaign, “Gifts that go the Distance.” With your help we surpassed our goal of $80,000 with pledges of $90,000. The new cameras and microphones in Kunwald have created a more seamless classroom experience for both local and distance students. Next summer Genadendal will be fully renovated, and we are very excited to see how we will be able to use that room as the space is redesigned and technology updated.

Many students have been touched by increases in financial support. This year, you added $200,000 to our endowed scholarships and $35,850 in directed gifts to Financial Aid. Many students are now better able to focus on their journey through Seminary toward their call than the struggle to pay bills.

In addition to being thankful for your support for special projects and scholarships, we would like to share a challenge: We missed our Annual Fund goal this past year by 10%. In practical terms your gifts are helping support specific areas of need, but funding for ordinary day-to-day business is lagging. As you consider a gift this year, please support the Annual Fund. This fund, which runs from July 1 to June 30, is central to the Seminary’s ability to fulfill its educational mission and to assure that the best learning and teaching takes place every day.

Thank you to all of you! With your continued support, we prepare the very finest pastors, educators, counselors, chaplains, spiritual directors, and lay leaders for service, creating impact now and far into the future.

Grace & peace,

The Rev. Dr. Christine L. Nelson

The Rev. Dr. Christine L. Nelson, Director of Seminary Advancement

P. S. Please add March 21, 2018 to your calendar for our Day of Giving 2018. Thank you!

Over the years caring for her sick child, Grace learned various home care and nursing skills which developed into an LPN certificate and eventually employment as a visiting nurse with Lehigh Valley Health Network. As she cared for her patients, she learned to value their stories and the relationship that built between them. “In talking with elderly, homebound folks, there is more going on than simply a disease process,” Grace observes. “There’s an underlying cultural dynamic of isolation. Often there is a need not only to do treatment but to validate their life and worth.” Grace was beginning to hear a call to a caring ministry that went beyond medical procedures. But it would be two more years before she could put language to that calling. It came through a radio ad on WDIY announcing Moravian Seminary’s new Chaplaincy degree.

Grace is now in her second semester of the Masters of Arts in Chaplaincy program. “Seminary classes have given me a way to explain what I felt was missing in all my early experience with the church. It’s all about relationships. It is not about what I can offer to people. I am a portal—an opportunity to allow others to tell what is important and of concern to them. And in the midst of that sharing, there is healing. And all of that comes from God and is surrounded by God.”

Among the things that she is currently thankful for, Grace observes, “I can go to school and only have to work part-time because of the financial support that many have given over the years. Because of the scholarship funds, I have been given this terrific opportunity to pursue God’s calling in my life.”

Look for Grace playing the tuba or trombone at Central Moravian Church, or in her Visiting Nurse uniform, or as the harpist playing for patients at the St. Luke’s Hospice faculty in Bethlehem. And soon, look for Chaplain Grace.

Ways To Give Simply

We all want to give to organizations we value. But sometimes remembering to do so or recalling what we have given already is sometimes hard to do! Why not give simply? Here are several ways to give to Moravian Seminary that will neither tax your wallet nor your memory!

Set up monthly or annual giving via:

- Online: moravianseminary.edu/makeagift
- Online Credit card: by calling the Seminary and authorizing a monthly debit
- Online Your bank account: by calling the Seminary and authorizing a monthly electronic transfer
- Online "Bill pay" feature of your bank to set up monthly/quarterly gifts to Moravian Seminary

Want to try it? Call Lisa Brand at MTS: 610.861.1338. She will set up a year's worth of gifts in 5 minutes.

NEW AWARD FUND

The Rev. Dr. Walter H. Wagner Intercultural Award Fund

Rev. Dr. Walter Wagner has served as an adjunct faculty member for over 20 years, teaching Intro to World Religions, various Christian-Muslim survey courses, and ones in New Testament and Church History. Walter has also been a central figure in forging relationships between the Muslim community in the Lehigh Valley and the Seminary, as well as other churches and faith communities.

To honor his legacy at Moravian Seminary, the faculty established an annual award to be presented in his honor at the fall Convocation. The Rev. Dr. Walter H. Wagner Intercultural Award will be given to any deserving MTS student who has been exemplary in working with the wider community and/or encouraging interfaith and intercultural activities. The award affirms the importance of interfaith understanding that has been such a significant part of Walter's ministry.

Marking its tenth year, Walter continues to co-coordinate the inter-religious dialogue series,

Interfaith Dialogue: Christian & Muslims Talking Together. The series is in partnership between the Lehigh Dialogue Center and the Seminary. Walter has also been a key resource in the development of the Respect Graduate School, where he serves as the Vice-President and teaches on the faculty.
